

There's a Rang-Tan in My Bedroom

by James Sellick and Frann Preston-Gannon

Key Stage 1 Teacher's Notes

THE AIM

There's a Rang-Tan in My Bedroom is the new picture book by James Sellick and Frann Preston-Gannon, based on the Greenpeace film that became a viral sensation. It can be used as a read-aloud classroom book and stimulus for discussion with EYFS and KS1 pupils. This corresponding Resource Pack includes lessons that have been designed as sequential activities and can be taught as whole Literacy, Citizenship/PSHE and Geography units, or as standalone activities. Their overall objective is to introduce young children to the natural world around them: the plight of orangutans, the threats to their environment, and what they can do to help.

ABOUT THE BOOK

When a little girl discovers a mischievous orangutan on the loose in her bedroom, she can't understand why it keeps shouting OOO! at her shampoo and her chocolate.

But when Rang-tan explains that there are humans running wild in her rainforest, burning down trees so they can grow palm oil to put in products, the little girl knows what she has to do: help save the orangutans!

A stunning picture book about one little girl and her orangutan friend, based on the Greenpeace film that became a viral sensation.

RESOURCE PACK OBJECTIVES & OUTCOMES

This Resource Pack provides material for three hour-long lessons that can take place during classes, during circle time, P4C sessions, or as extra-curricular activities. The pack follows criteria for Literacy but focuses on Citizenship, Geography and PSHE objectives.

Lesson 1: Orangutan Origins

Objectives:

- To retrieve information about characters from text and make inferences
- To identify and understand the emotions of Rang-tan and the little girl in the book

Outcomes: A list of emotions for the characters; a piece of drama in-role as the characters; a Rang-tan mask!

Lesson 2: Rang-Tan Rainforests

Objectives:

- To describe rainforests and where they're located
- To identify the differences between the human world and a rainforest

Outcomes: A world map labelled with continents; a description of a rainforest; a postcard home written inrole as Rang-tan.

Lesson 3: Let's Go Ape!

Objectives:

- To understand what palm oil is and the impact it has on the rainforests
- To create a poster to inform others about the plight of orangutans

Outcomes: A poster inspired by the actions of the little girl in the book, designed to help the orangutans!

LESSON ONE ORANGUTAN ORIGINS

Lead-in questions:

- Do you know what orangutans are?
- Have you ever seen an orangutan before? Can you describe it?

Task 1:

To begin, read the first few pages of the book together as a class. Encourage pupils to read aloud and join in with the action by making facial expressions just like the characters in the story.

Some pupils in the class might act in role as the little girl, while the other half of the class might act in role as Rang-tan.

Then, using whiteboards, ask pupils to come up with some of their own describing words for the little girl and Rang-tan.

Task 2:

Look at the first spread from the book in which the little girl and Rang-tan are first introduced to us.

There's a Rang-Tan in My Bedroom

by James Sellick and Frann Preston-Gannon

Key Stage 1 Teacher's Notes

Ask the class: what is happening? How is each character feeling?

Encourage pupils to choose words from the word bank below and match them to the column for the little girl or for Rang-tan. Some words might not go in either column! Pupils should be able to explain why they have chosen their words.

ANXIOUS

SHOCKED

HAPPY

WORRIED

CURIOUS

CONFUSED

SCARED

EXCITED

CALM

LOUD

LITTLE GIRL	RANG-TAN

Task 3:

Put pupils into pairs, where one pupil is Rang-tan and one is the little girl. Each pupil should take it in turns to pretend to be each character by doing facial expressions that represent the different words they selected in Task 2.

After pretending to be the characters, the children should write down how they felt. They should start their sentences with:

When I was Rang-tan I felt / When I was the little girl I felt

.....

.....

Task 4:

Ask children to draw Rang-tan on a sheet of paper and decorate it with their favourite words to describe Rang-tan. When you've finished, you could even use all of your pictures to create a classroom display!

In pairs, get the children to finish the three sentence starters below:

1) This is a picture of

2) The three best words to describe Rang-tan are, and

3) Rang-tan's favourite thing in the bedroom is

LESSON TWO RANG-TAN RAINFORESTS

Lead-in questions:

- What are rainforests? Do you know what they look like?
- Have you ever experienced moving away from home? How did you feel?

Task 1:

Split yourselves into seven groups. Your teacher will give you a different continent from the list below; your continent will be your group name. Work together to think of three different things you know about the continent you have been given.

ANTARCTICA	ASIA	EUROPE	NORTH AMERICA

SOUTH AMERICA	AUSTRALIA	AFRICA

There's a Rang-Tan in My Bedroom

by James Sellick and Frann Preston-Gannon

Key Stage 1 Teacher's Notes

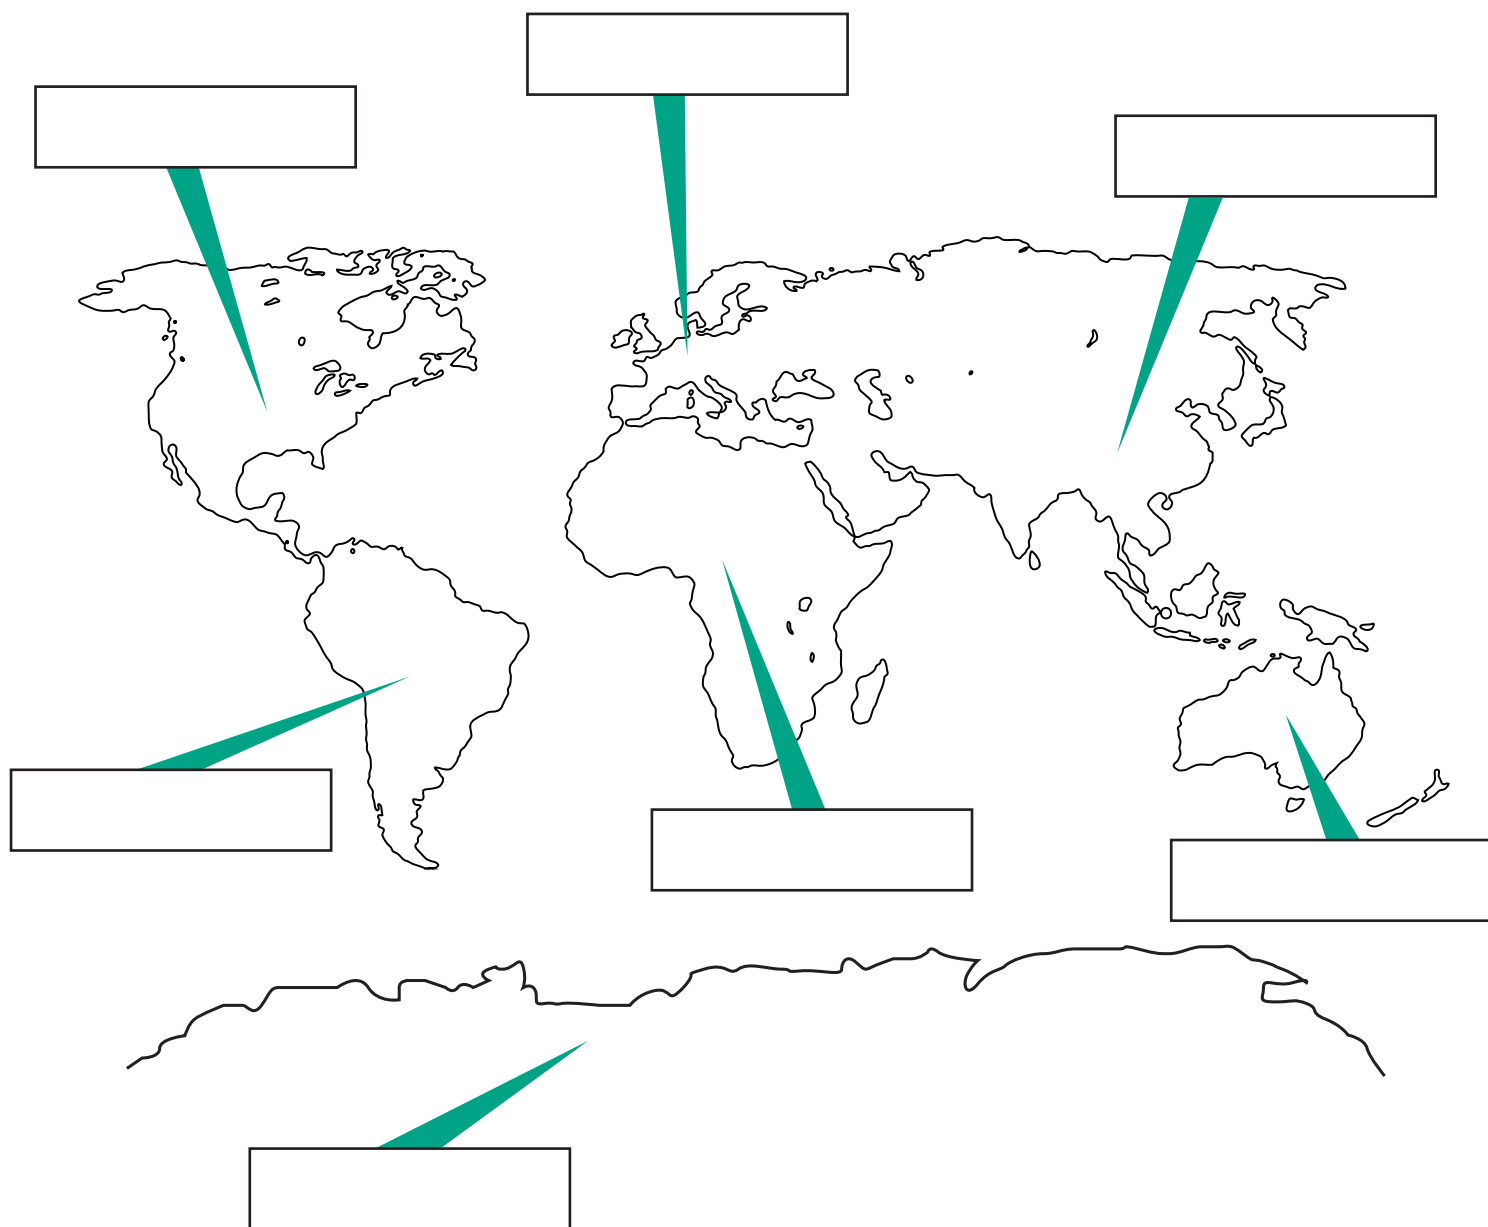

Task 2:

Colour in your blank map below to show where each continent is in the world. Make sure to use the right colour for each continent – don't forget to label them and also include a key on your map!

AFRICA YELLOW
ANTARCTICA BLUE

ASIA ORANGE
EUROPE PINK
NORTH AMERICA RED

AUSTRALIA PURPLE
SOUTH AMERICA GREEN

Task 3:

Orangutans live in Sumatra and Borneo. Can you find the continent where orangutans live?

HERE'S A TIP: check the colours that you've already used on your map for a clue...

Stick the following picture of Rang-tan to the correct place on the map where she lives.

There's a Rang-Tan in My Bedroom

by James Sellick and Frann Preston-Gannon

Key Stage 1 Teacher's Notes

Task 4:

Rang-tan's home is a rainforest. What are rainforests like?

Choose the correct word from the pairings below in sentences to describe the rainforest:

SNOWY / RAINY

ORANGUTANS / POLAR BEARS

WHITE / GREEN

TREES / BEACHES

LEAVES / SAND

HUMANS / WILDLIFE

Task 5:

How do you think Rang-tan feels to be so far away from her home in the rainforest?

Write a postcard home in role as Rang-tan. Use the template at the back of this pack to write down your ideas. If you don't want to write, you can explain your ideas to a partner.

LESSON THREE LET'S GO APE!

Lead-in questions:

- Why is Rang-tan in the little girl's bedroom and not at home in the rainforest?
- How does Rang-tan feel about being away from the rainforest?

Task 1:

1. What is Rang-tan doing here?
2. Do you think she likes chocolate? Why or why not?
3. Do you think she likes shampoo? Why or why not?

There's a Rang-Tan in My Bedroom

by James Sellick and Frann Preston-Gannon

Key Stage 1 Teacher's Notes

Task 2:

Rang-tan doesn't like the chocolate and shampoo because it contains something called PALM OIL.

Unfortunately, lots of orangutans are losing their homes because humans want to grow more palm trees for palm oil.

One of the ways they do this is by choosing to tear down some parts of the rainforest, like in the illustration below, rather than growing palm oil responsibly.

Orangutans aren't the only animals whose homes are being destroyed by companies who are choosing not to use responsibly grown palm oil. Can you see any other animals in the illustration that are running away from the diggers? Write down all the animals you can see in the illustration:

-
-
-

Task 3:

We need to help Rang-tan, her family and friends of the rainforest! One way we can do this is by making a poster to let lots of other people know about Rang-tan and what is happening to her home.

Create a poster showing how we can help orangutans. Look at some of the examples in the illustration below for inspiration!

Don't forget to include the following things:

- Bright, bold pictures and words
- Simple and direct language
- Information about the orangutans and what is happening to them

There's a Rang-Tan in My Bedroom

by James Sellick and Frann Preston-Gannon

Key Stage 1 Teacher's Notes

THANK YOU FOR READING
RANG-TAN'S STORY ...
AND FOR HELPING TO SAVE
THE ORANGUTANS!

There's a Rang-Tan in My Bedroom

by James Sellick and Frann Preston-Gannon

Key Stage 1 Teacher's Notes

There's a Rang-Tan in My Bedroom

by James Sellick and Frann Preston-Gannon

Key Stage 1 Teacher's Notes

To my friends at home in the rainforest,

The little girl's bedroom is full of

It is different to the rainforest because

I miss my home in the rainforest because

From,

Rang-tan

There's a Rang-Tan in My Bedroom

by James Sellick and Frann Preston-Gannon

Key Stage 2 Teacher's Notes

THE AIM

There's a Rang-Tan in My Bedroom is the new picture book by James Sellick and Frann Preston-Gannon, based on the Greenpeace film that became a viral sensation. It can be used as a class read and stimulus for discussion with KS2 pupils. This corresponding Resource Pack includes lessons that have been designed as sequential activities and can be taught as whole Literacy, Citizenship/PSHE and Geography units, or as standalone activities. Their overall objective is to introduce pupils to important issues in the natural world around them: the plight of orangutans, the threats to their environment, and what pupils can do to help.

ABOUT THE BOOK

When a little girl discovers a mischievous orangutan on the loose in her bedroom, she can't understand why it keeps shouting OOO! at her shampoo and her chocolate.

But when Rang-tan explains that there are humans running wild in her rainforest, burning down trees so they can grow palm oil to put in products, the little girl knows what she has to do: help save the orangutans!

A stunning picture book about one little girl and her orangutan friend, based on the Greenpeace film that became a viral sensation.

RESOURCE PACK OBJECTIVES & OUTCOMES

This Resource Pack provides material for three hour-long lessons that can take place during classes, during circle time, P4C sessions, or as extra-curricular activities. The pack follows criteria for Literacy but focuses on Citizenship, Geography and PSHE objectives.

Lesson 1: An Introduction to Orangutans

Objectives:

- To identify the differences and similarities between orangutans and humans
- To organise and present facts about orangutans in writing using the appropriate format and tone

Outcomes: A Venn diagram comparing humans and orangutans; an informative 'DID YOU KNOW?' leaflet about orangutans.

Lesson 2: Threats to Orangutans

Objectives:

- To locate and describe the rainforests in which orangutans live
- To understand the process of the production of palm oil and why it can have a negative impact

Outcomes: A completed 'rainforest postcard'; a non-chronological report about the production of palm oil.

Lesson 3: Campaign Letters

Objectives:

- To identify the ways that we can have a positive impact on the environment and help orangutans
- To write a formal letter to a big company that uses palm oil in its products

Outcomes: A pledge outlining actions that pupils can take to protect the rainforests; a campaign letter to a company of choice.

LESSON ONE AN INTRODUCTION TO ORANGUTANS

Lead-in questions:

- What is an orangutan? Where do orangutans live?
- How would you describe an orangutan?

Task 1:

Look at the cover of There's a Rang-Tan in My Bedroom. Use your predictive skills to answer the questions below:

1. What might the relationship be between the little girl and the orangutan?
2. What are the possible similarities and differences between the little girl and the orangutan?
3. Why do you think the orangutan might be in the girl's bedroom? Why is this unusual?
4. What sort of message do you think the story might have? Why?

There's a Rang-Tan in My Bedroom

by James Sellick and Frann Preston-Gannon

Key Stage 2 Teacher's Notes

Task 2:

Watch this video 'DIY Orangutans' (<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=IFACrIx5SZ0>) with David Attenborough.

While watching the video, complete the Venn diagram template below.

Write the different characteristics of 'humans' and 'orangutans' in their respective circles, putting any similarities in the overlapping area.

DID YOU KNOW? The word "orangutan" is from the Malay language – "orang" means human and "utan" comes from a word meaning forest. So orangutan means "human of the forest"!

Humans

Orangutans

Orangutans and humans are different because

Orangutans and humans are similar because

One thing I have learned about orangutans is

This makes me feel differently about orangutans because

Task 3:

Use your Venn diagram to help you create a 'DID YOU KNOW?' leaflet about orangutans. First, choose your three favourite facts about them:

1. DID YOU KNOW?

2. DID YOU KNOW?

3. DID YOU KNOW?

Task 4:

Now, create an informative short leaflet or poster incorporating your three chosen facts.

Try to write in a style that entices and intrigues the reader.

Include lots of images and diagrams to help illustrate your ideas; you can use Frann Preston-Gannon's illustrations for inspiration!

LESSON TWO THREATS TO ORANGUTANS

Lead-in questions:

- What are rainforests? Do you know what they look like?
- What are the threats to the world's rainforests?

Task 1:

Orangutans live in the rainforests of the south-east Asian islands of Borneo and Sumatra. Look at the image of a rainforest on the postcard template.

Complete the passage of text describing the rainforest on the other side of the template by choosing the correct words to fill the gaps.

Rainforests are some of the richest ecosystems on Earth. Typically, they have a TROPICAL / WINTER climate due to their proximity to the equator. They usually receive a large amount of SNOW / RAINFALL each year. The rainforest is home to lots of living things: animals such as ORANGUTANS / POLAR BEARS, TIGERS / HORSES and a variety of trees including WILD FRUIT TREES / OAK TREES. When you look at a rainforest, it's usually a vivid BLUE / GREEN in colour, with lots of WATERFALLS / BEACHES dotted across the landscape. Rainforests consist of lots of layers full of a variety of different animal and plant life. One of these layers is called the 'canopy'; it is an umbrella-like layer of branches and LEAVES / ROOTS of the trees. In the canopy, you can find up to 80% of the HUMANS / WILDLIFE that live(s) in the rainforest!

There's a Rang-Tan in My Bedroom

by James Sellick and Frann Preston-Gannon

Key Stage 2 Teacher's Notes

Task 2:

Locate some of the world's rainforests on the map of the world provided below by colouring in and labeling the relevant countries/continents with a key.

Key:

There's a Rang-Tan in My Bedroom

by James Sellick and Frann Preston-Gannon

Key Stage 2 Teacher's Notes

Stick the following picture of Rang-tan to the correct place on the map where she lives!

There's a Rang-Tan in My Bedroom

by James Sellick and Frann Preston-Gannon

Key Stage 2 Teacher's Notes

Task 3:

Look at the following spread from There's a Rang-Tan in My Bedroom and answer the questions below:

1. What is happening on these pages? How would you describe the scene? Is it positive or negative?
2. How is this image different from the image of the rainforest that you have just been looking at?
3. Why are humans causing this destruction to the orangutan's home?
4. How would you describe the orangutan in the illustration?
5. What can you infer about why Rang-tan is in the little girl's bedroom and not in her usual habitat?

DID YOU KNOW? Sadly, there are only about 110,000 orangutans left in the world. That's because their rainforest homes are being destroyed to make way for palm oil plantations.

Task 4:

Unfortunately, lots of orangutans are losing their homes because humans want to grow more palm trees for the production of PALM OIL. To do this they are choosing to tear down some parts of the rainforest, rather than growing it responsibly.

Using the page of the book entitled 'The Problem with Palm Palm Oil', create a non-chronological report to describe the process of the production of palm oil. Don't forget to include information about the impact on orangutans.

Use the Non-Chronological Report Template to help you.

NON-CHRONOLOGICAL REPORT TEMPLATE

TITLE OF REPORT:

INTRODUCTION:

SUB-HEADING 1:

SUB-HEADING 2:

SUB-HEADING 3:

LESSON THREE CAMPAIGN LETTERS

Lead-in questions:

- What is the main threat to orangutans?
- Why is it important to protect the environment and creatures like orangutans?

Task 1:

Look at the spread from There's a Rang-Tan in My Bedroom and answer the comprehension questions below:

1. What are some of the ways in which we can work to save orangutans, according to the illustrations here?
2. What sorts of people can you write letters to in order to help protect the rainforests?
3. How can you raise awareness of the plight of orangutans? Why is it important to do this?

DID YOU KNOW? There is nothing wrong with palm oil if it's grown responsibly, without chopping down the rainforests.

Write a pledge containing a list of actions that you can take to become a more conscious consumer and to help protect orangutans.

Task 2:

It's time to put your letter-writing skills to the test. Using the Top Tips for Writing a Campaign Letter at the back of the book, you're going to write a letter to a big company that uses palm oil in its products.

You need to persuade them to SOURCE PALM OIL RESPONSIBLY.

Before you begin, use an A3 sheet of paper to create a map of everything you would like to say in your letter. Use the headings below to help you start planning:

- Will your letter be formal or informal? Why?
- What language choices will you make? What vocabulary will you use?
- What sort of tone will your letter have?
- How will you open your letter?
- How will you close your letter?
- How many paragraphs will it have?
- What are your main points?
- What will you say in each paragraph?

There's a Rang-Tan in My Bedroom

by James Sellick and Frann Preston-Gannon

Key Stage 2 Teacher's Notes

Task 3:

It's time to get writing! Use the template below to write your campaign letter to a big company which uses palm oil in its products. Don't forget to be polite and give lots of reasons for why you are writing; these are the most persuasive ways of getting your argument across and saving our orangutans!

The template is enclosed in a large orange border. It contains several orange boxes of different sizes and shapes, each with an arrow pointing to it from a label. The labels are in a bold, orange, sans-serif font. The boxes are arranged as follows:

- Recipient's address: A rectangular box on the left side, with an arrow pointing to it from the label 'Recipient's address'.
- Your address: A rectangular box on the right side, with an arrow pointing to it from the label 'Your address'.
- Greeting: A horizontal rectangular box on the left side, below the recipient's address box, with an arrow pointing to it from the label 'Greeting'.
- Date: A horizontal rectangular box on the right side, below the your address box, with an arrow pointing to it from the label 'Date'.
- Your letter: A large rectangular box in the center, below the greeting and date boxes, with an arrow pointing to it from the label 'Your letter'.
- Closing farewell: A horizontal rectangular box at the bottom, below the main letter box, with an arrow pointing to it from the label 'Closing farewell'.

There's a Rang-Tan in My Bedroom

by James Sellick and Frann Preston-Gannon

Key Stage 2 Teacher's Notes

THANK YOU FOR READING
RANG-TAN'S STORY ...
AND FOR HELPING TO SAVE
THE ORANGUTANS!