

Barrington Stoke

THEATRE ACTIVITY PACK

THE ANIMALS OF MADAME MALONE'S MUSIC HALL

Laura Wood

CONTENTS

1. Sensational Set Design!
2. Curious Costume Design!
3. It's Opening Night!
4. The Cake Went Boom!
5. Set the Scene! Writing your own Stinky Malone scene.

1. SENSATIONAL SET DESIGN!

A set designer is in charge of the way a play looks. They have to set the scene for the audience, using scenery and props. This can be anything – the inside of a room, a castle, a magical forest – the sky is the limit! Why not have a go at being a set designer yourself? Here's a lovely empty stage for you to play with – have a go at drawing in some scenery.

2. CURIOUS COSTUME DESIGN!

A costume designer is in charge of what all the characters on stage have to wear. Costumes can tell us a lot about a character – do they like to stand out or blend in to the background? Are there special props you need like animal ears or magic wands or fabulous jewels? Why not try designing some costumes for the animals of Madame Malone's Music Hall?

Vector images from Freepik.com

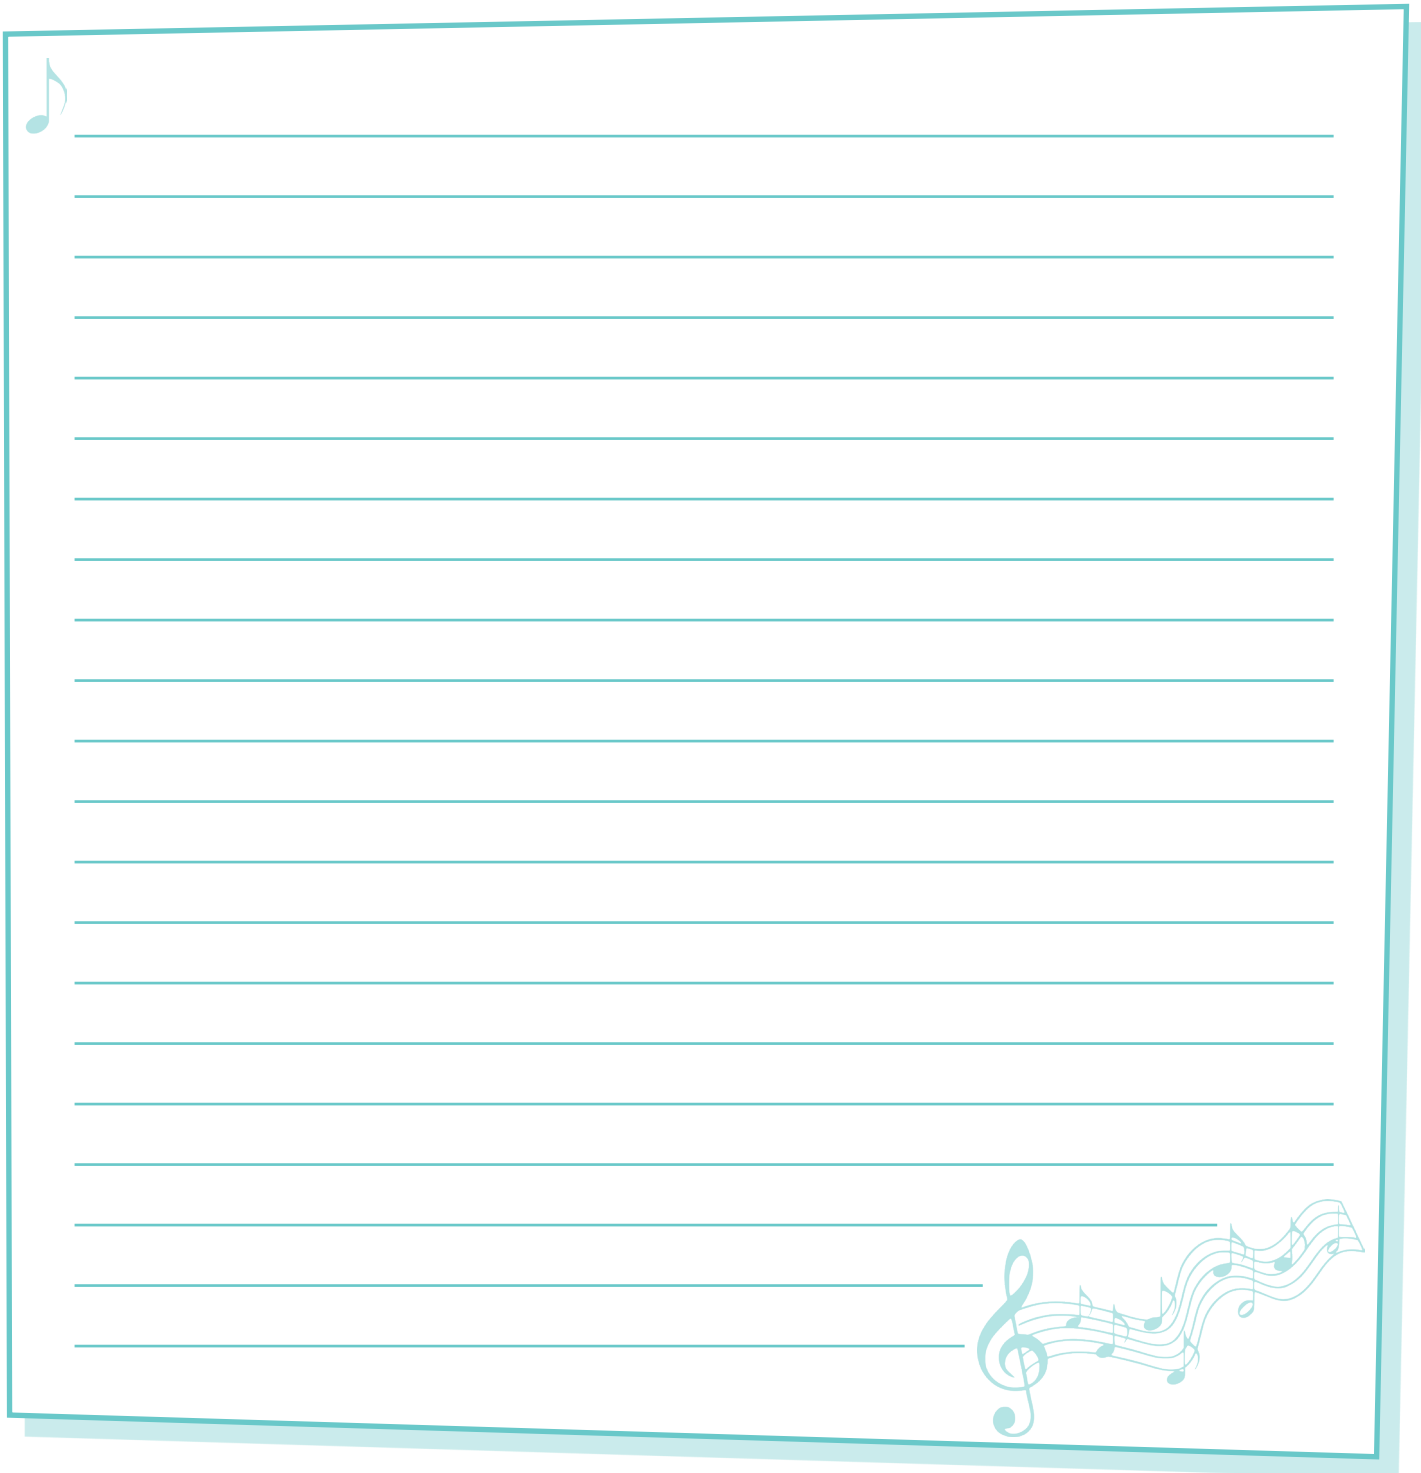

3. IT'S OPENING NIGHT!

You're the director here, and it's opening night of your play! What outfit are you going to wear to wow the crowds and make sure you stand out on the red carpet? Draw yourself!

4. THE CAKE WENT BOOM!

In The All Singing, All Dancing Adventures of Stinky Malone the cast sing a song called The Cake Went Boom! Could you write a song about an exploding cake? Maybe you could make a video of your song and send it to us?

A large rectangular area with a light blue border, containing 20 horizontal lines for writing. A small musical note icon is at the top left, and a decorative flourish of musical notes is at the bottom right.

5. SET THE SCENE! Writing your own Stinky Malone scene

When you write a scene in a play you have to write the name of the character and then the words they will say. Here's the start of a scene, can you finish it off? Feel free to bring in your own characters and take the story wherever you like!

Stinky: Oh, Princess Sparkles! Please don't cry!

Princess Sparkles: But I am so sad! My beautiful castle is falling apart.

What on earth are we going to do?

Stinky: Don't you worry about that. I've got a plan.

Princess Sparkles: Did you say you have a plan?

Stinky: No! I said I have a PLAN!

Princess Sparkles: Oh dear. That's a shame. I am quite hungry actually.

But tell me, what is your big idea? How can we save the castle?

Stinky:

Princess Sparkles:

-----:

-----:

-----:

-----:

(Just get some more blank paper if you need it and finish your scene!)

